THE WATER WORKS

Consist of a circular stome building, standing on the brow of a hill, surmounted by a large cedar reservoir containing five hundred barrels, brought from a never-failing spring of pure cold water in the side of the hill, by "a hydraulic ram," a self-acting machine of cast fron, that is kept constantly going, night and day, by the descent of the water from the spring. The surplus water is carried from the reservoir to a fountain in the water-works yard, surrounded by weeping willows. In the first story of the water-works is a circular room, containing the douche bath, which is a stream falling from a height of about thirty feet, and can be varied in size from half an inch to an inch and a half in diameter. Adjoining the douche room is a dressing room, with marble tables, &c.; the rising douchs (for the cure of plies, &c.) is one of the most complete contrivances of the kind, being entirely under the control of the patient using the same.

There are many other appliances, which can be better understood by a personal examination.

SEARS' PIOTORIAL FAMILY PUBLICATIONS are decidedly the best books that agents can possibly employ their time in supplying to the people of the United States. They are valuable for reference, and should be possessed by every family in this great republic. There is not a city or town in these United States, not even those of small importance, but contains many citizens to whom these works are indispensable. They are adapted to the literary wants of the Christian, the patriot, the statesman and the domestic circle, got up in a superior style of art and workmanship; and are not only such books as will sell, but are such as an agent of good principle will feel free to recommend, and willing to see the purchaser again after they have been bought.

Our Phan—The plan the publisher has so successfully carried out for several years, is the obtaining responsible cen as agents, who are well known in their own counties, owns, and villages, and have time and dispection to circulate good and instructive books among their neighbors and friends. Any person wishing to embark in the enterprise will risk little in sending $25 or $50, for which he will receive an assortment as he may direct, at the whole-sale cash prices.

Enterprising and active men of respectability and good address, would do well to engage in the sale of the above volumes; and all postmasters, clergymen, book pediars, and newspapers agents, are respectfully requested to act as our agents. NOT PURCHASED .- It was stated in one of Not PCRCHASED.—It was stated in one of the papers last week that the estate of Jno. A. Smith, esq., situated north of Washington, had been purchased for a military asylum for $40,-000. We have received such information as to induce the belief that the sale, as reported, has not transpired; and, indeed, that as yet no spot has been definitively fixed upon for the object. The beautiful farm property of Mr. John H. King, north of the Georgetown College estate, was visited yesterday with a view to an examination of its fitness for the purpose, but examination of its fitness for the purpose, but we do not hear that any steps have been taken making its purchase likely.—Int.

We believe we copied a telegraphic despatch from this city to the above effect. VISIT TO THE VALLEY OF VIRGINIA .- It is unlerstood, and we have no doubt correctly, that the President of the United States and a portion of the members of the Cabinet-the Secretaries of War and of the Interior-will leave this city on their promised visit to the Valley of Virginia on Tuesday next.

On his way the President, with the Secre-

friendly and familiar way, the citizens of the adjoining counties of Jefferson, Clarke, and Loudoun, in compliance with an invitation of the latter made some time since. Leaving Shannondale, the President and his friends will go on to Winchester, and, taking perhaps Capon by the way, thence to the White Sulphur Springs of Greenbrier. At this point, if we are not misinformed, Mr. Stuart will cross into his own district, to attend to some legal ousiness requiring his care. Of Mr. Conrad's purposes we are not apprized, but, being a native of Winchester, at which place many of his near relatives are still resident, he will, of course, feel himself in that region every where at home. This will be Mr. Courad's first release this summer from the toils and cares of his Department.—Intelligencer. There is a spirit of "go ahead" among the boys of the West, that neither fire can burn out nor water drown. The latest instance of "never giving up" occurred in Canton (Missouri) dur-ing the late flood. The Reporter, published in that town, says that during the late flood in the Mississippi, his "devil" carried round the paper in a canoe—that sometimes he would as it into the door of a subscriber and drop in the paper, and where that was not convenient, he would drop them down the chimney. This devil" must be a descendant of the Kentuckian who could "dive deeper, stay under longer, and come up dryer than any man in the

SWIMMING .- Elizur Wright gives the rationale of swimming as follows: No branch of educa-tion has been so much neglected as this. Man is the only animal which does not swim naturally. He sinks in deep water from the size of his brain when not properly exercised. That is to say, the weight of his brain above his nose sinks that organ a little beneath the surface, when he is in an erect position, before his body water, and thus finds an equilibrium. With the nose under, one must oreathe water and drown. But when the brain omes to be exercised enough to throw the head back and the nose up, pointing to the very zenith, and keep the hands and feet carefully under the water, then by the eternal laws of hydrostatics, the nose will continue above water and the person will float like an empty bottle which is so balanced as to keep its mouth uppermost. No human being can sink in still water of any depth, lying on his back with hands and feet under water.
